From the President

The hundreds of alumni and friends of Shepherd University listed in this annual report are a testament to the devotion and pride that we all feel toward this remarkable university.

You believe strongly in Shepherd University, as do I. Your generosity provides much needed scholarship support for deserving students, as well as faculty and academic program support. Your financial investment allows our academic programs to thrive and shine.

A wonderful example of alumni and community members stepping up in support of Shepherd is the Business 2020 committee that began raising funds earlier this year to establish a much needed School of Business. In the group's initial meeting, many of the committee members wrote checks or made pledges to establish a School of Business, an initiative to restore Shepherd's business administration program to preeminence as we train the next generation of business leaders.

It is this sort of belief in Shepherd University that allows us to move forward, even during these times of declining state budget support (Shepherd receives just 15 percent of its budget from the state).

This year, the Shepherd University Foundation has taken on a larger role by partnering with the university to build a new residence hall on West Campus, which our students named Potomac Place. This is an excellent example of the public-private relationships we are developing to advance our university—by thinking creatively about ways to accomplish institutional goals.

With your continuing support—both financial and volunteer—we can make the university that we all love the best in the state as we train the next generation of leaders and model citizens.

I thank you sincerely for your vital support.

Shepherd accepts 5 Star Challenge, new Veterans Center opens on Princess Street

On Veterans Day 2015, Shepherd accepted the 5 Star Challenge, an initiative that encourages all of West Virginia's two- and four-year institutions to adopt a set of standards to help veterans achieve an education. The 5 Star Challenge coin is a tribute to the military tradition of issuing "challenge coins" to service members who embody the values and standards of their military units. A ribbon-cutting on February 10, 2016, officially opened a Veterans Center on Princess Street in the newly renovated Shepherd Free School. The center was furnished and equipped through a $12,000 donation from the Shepherd Fund Leadership Giving Circle. The center provides veterans with a place to meet with other veterans as they transition to college and a place to study.

Opposite page, clockwise from top left: Dr. Mary J.C. Hendrix '74 was named Shepherd's 16th president during an installation ceremony held April 8, 2016. She is pictured at a reception with Chancellor Paul Hill of the West Virginia Higher Education Policy Commission. The inauguration featured two days of festivities including an energy symposium, concert, Relay for Life torch lighting, ice cream social, and leadership summit.

Former Iowa Congressman and National Endowment for the Humanities chair James A. Leach was the speaker at the 143rd Commencement ceremony on May 7, 2016. Leach was awarded a Doctor of Laws honorary degree and is shown being hooded by Dr. J.B. Tuttle, president of the Faculty Senate, and Dr. Marcia Brand, chair of the Shepherd University Board of Governors. Also honored during the ceremony were philanthropist Randy Smith of Berkeley County, who received an honorary doctorate, and Dr. Sylvia Manning, interim president of Shepherd, and her husband Thomas Blondell, who received the President's Award. A total of 768 degrees were awarded, including 63 master's degrees.

Shepherd University broke ground on a new West Campus residence hall on June 22, 2016. The 80,866 square foot, $22 million residence hall is slated to open by August 2017 and is being built through a public-private partnership, a first for Shepherd. Shepherd, the Shepherd University Foundation Sustaining Organization, and EdR Collegiate Housing, a private company that has built and manages student housing in a number of states, are partnering to construct the residence hall near the Center for Contemporary Arts I. The architect for the project is Design Collective of Baltimore, Maryland, the same firm that designed Shepherd's Erma Ora Byrd Hall on East Campus. The construction company is Harkins Builders, of Baltimore/Washington/Philadelphia.

Art programs accredited by NASAD

The Department of Contemporary Art and Theater was approved for membership in the National Association of Schools of Art and Design (NASAD). The B.A. in art education and the B.F.A. in graphic design, painting, photography, computer imagery, printmaking, and sculpture were approved for accreditation. Shepherd's program is only the second in West Virginia to receive the accreditation.

CCA II designated LEED Silver certified

Shepherd's Center for Contemporary Arts II is the first building on campus to become LEED certified. CCA II has been designated LEED Silver by the U.S. Green Building Council. LEED stands for Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design and is a rating system that determines a building's energy efficiency. CCA II is one of the few college campus buildings in West Virginia to achieve certification.

Shepherd and BRCTC sign two agreements

Shepherd and Blue Ridge Community and Technical College in Martinsburg signed two new articulation agreements that allow students to seamlessly transfer from Blue Ridge's Associate of Arts in liberal arts program directly into Shepherd's Regents Bachelor of Arts degree program and Bachelor of Arts degree program with a major in history without losing any college credits. This is the eighth shared transfer agreement the two institutions have signed.

Evanisko named W.Va. Professor of the Year

Sonya Evanisko, professor of art and coordinator of the painting program, was named the 2015 West Virginia Professor of the Year by the Faculty Merit Foundation on March 30, 2016. Evanisko, who has worked at Shepherd since 1993, teaches courses in painting, drawing, visual thinking skills, and professional practice with an emphasis on empowering students to have successful careers.

HLC reaffirms Shepherd's accreditation

Shepherd University hosted a site team visit by the Higher Learning Commission, one of the six regional agencies that accredit U.S. colleges and universities at the institutional level, for a reaffirmation of accreditation on March 7 and 8, 2016. Shepherd University met all five criteria for accreditation.

CATF awarded Governor's Art Award

The Contemporary American Theater Festival (CATF) received an Organizational Medallion for Excellence in Support of the Arts during the Governor's Arts Awards Gala on March 10, 2016. This is the third time CATF has received a Governor's Arts Award.

International scholars honor society launched

The Shepherd chapter of Phi Beta Delta honor society for international scholars had its founding induction ceremony on April 5, 2016. This is the first chapter in West Virginia and one of 180 chapters around the world.

Business 2020 raising funds for School of Business

Shepherd and the Shepherd University Foundation launched the Business 2020 committee in summer 2016 to raise $600,000 to help fund a School of Business which will launch in 2017 under the leadership of Dr. Ben Martz, dean of business school development. He will become dean of the School of Business next year.

Kushin's social media study wins top award

Dr. Matt Kushin, associate professor of mass communications, presented a study showing that students who take part in Hootsuite University social media training perceive that they are better prepared for internships and jobs. The study, titled "Hootsuite University: Equipping Academics and Future PR Professionals for Social Media Success," was presented at the annual conference of the Association for Education in Journalism and Mass Communication in August 2015 in San Francisco, where it won the top teaching research paper award from the public relations division. The study was also published in the February 2016 issue of the Journal of Public Relations Education.

Opposite page, clockwise from top left: Dr. Laura Clayton, professor of nursing education, received a three-year, $1.4 million grant in July 2016 from the Health Resources and Services Administration to develop an interprofessional collaborative practice environment for nursing, medical, and allied health professional students.

Dr. Richard Stevens, associate professor and college student development and administration (CSDA) graduate program coordinator, was the recipient of the Storer College Faculty Award, which recognizes a faculty member who incorporates diversity and social justice into the classroom, research, scholarship, and interaction with students. He co-founded Shepherd's civility response team.

Dr. Sharon Mailey, director and chair of the Department of Nursing Education, received the American Association of Colleges of Nursing Advocate of the Year Award on March 20, 2016.

Dr. Clarissa Mathews, professor of environmental and physical sciences and chair of the Institute of Environmental and Physical Sciences, was the senior author of a paper published in the April 22, 2016 issue of the Entomological Society of America's journal Environmental Entomology that explored whether special glands on peach trees that produce nectar help keep beneficial bugs in orchards.

Dr. Jonathan Gilkerson, assistant professor of biology, was the coauthor of an article published in the journal Science. The groundbreaking research discovered a mechanism that allows plants to survive under adverse conditions.

Shurbutt receives $118,868 NEH grant

Dr. Sylvia Bailey Shurbutt, professor of English and Appalachian studies program coordinator, received a $118,868 National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) grant to offer a summer seminar in Appalachian studies for public school teachers in July 2016. This is the second NEH grant Shurbutt has received. She received a $99,000 grant to host a similar seminar, which took place in July 2013.

Nolan appointed to council by Governor Tomblin

Dr. Colleen Nolan, dean of the School of Natural Sciences and Mathematics, was named by Gov. Earl Ray Tomblin to serve on the Science and Research Council of the West Virginia Higher Education Policy Commission. Her term will end June 30, 2018. The Science and Research Council works to increase the capacity of West Virginia and its colleges and universities to attract, implement, and use cutting-edge, competitive research funds and infrastructure. Members of the council provide expertise and policy guidance on federal and state programs, including EPSCoR, the West Virginia Research Trust Fund, and the Research Challenge Fund.

Plautz and student featured in online journal

Dr. Carol Plautz, associate professor of biology, and Hannah Williams, a senior from Bunker Hill majoring in biology, were featured in the Journal of Visualized Experiments (JoVE), an online peer-reviewed scientific video journal. They performed experiments for the camera on immature frog eggs, called oocytes. The experiment involves using the oocytes from Xenopus laevis, or the clawed frog, which is native to sub-Saharan Africa, to try to identify genes that are responsible for causing the lens of a vertebrate's eye to form.

TRiO Program awarded $1.1 million grant

In August 2015, a U.S. Department of Education $1.1 million grant was awarded to the TRiO Student Support Services program, which helps students who are first-generation college students, have disabilities, or who meet income guidelines set by the federal education department. The TRiO program, under the leadership of Cynthia Copney, clinical assistant professor and director of TRiO Student Support Services, finished its fifth year. This grant allows TRiO to continue for another five years.

Gardening and smart lunch initiative launched

Dr. Danielle Hollar, adjunct faculty member, is working with eight elementary schools in Berkeley and Jefferson counties to teach children the benefits of eating healthier foods. The Department of Health, Physical Education, Recreation, and Sport (HPERS) received a $100,000 subcontract from West Virginia University to implement a gardening education and Smarter Lunchroom program in the Eastern Panhandle through the U.S. Department of Agriculture Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program-Education (SNAP-Ed).

Social Work picked to provide foster parent training

A $201,519 Title IV-E Training Contract between the social work program and the West Virginia Department of Health and Human Resources was renewed. Under the contract, Shepherd provided training in a 15-county area for potential foster parents and for DHHR employees during 2015-16. Shepherd has been involved in the program for 22 years.

Tudor travels to Cuba with COPLAC

Dr. Robert Tudor, associate professor of music and chair of the Department of Music, was one of 23 professors from schools that belong to the Council of Public Liberal Arts Colleges (COPLAC) who traveled to Cuba, December 13-19, 2015. COPLACuba was sponsored by the government organization Instituto Cubano de Investigación Cultural Juan Marinello (Cuban Institute of Cultural Research).

Best leading gravitational wave astronomy project

Dr. Jason Best, professor of astronomy and astrophysics, is leading research at Shepherd on gravitational wave astronomy with a $100,000 grant over the next five years. The project is part of a $20 million grant from the National Science Foundation to West Virginia's Experimental Program to Stimulate Competitive Research (EPSCoR). The grant is used for a research project called Gravitational Wave Astronomy and the Appalachian Freshwater Initiative and includes the participation of several universities and the National Radio Astronomy Observatory in Green Bank. Up to 10 students will participate over the five-year period.

Students attend statewide leadership conference

Four of Shepherd's six SGA officers—Caroline Shamberger, vice president, a psychology major from Morgantown; Da'Shawn Long, treasurer, a nursing major from Winchester, Virginia; Kahlen Browning, secretary, a business administration major from Bolt; and Katlyn Simmons, campus relations officer, a communication and new media major from Harpers Ferry—attended the 11th annual Student Leadership Conference May 16-18, 2016 in Jackson's Mill. The statewide conference was sponsored by the West Virginia Higher Education Policy Commission, the West Virginia Community and Technical College System, and Shepherd. Megan Ball, a graduate assistant for student conduct and the Washington Gateway program, served on the conference planning committee.

Opposite page, clockwise from top left: The Shepherd University Visual Arts Collective, a student organization in the Department of Contemporary Art and Theater, hosted the third annual Art Market in December 2015 where students offered their artwork and crafts for sale. Rhonda Smith, art department chair, said the annual event gives students a real-life opportunity to market their work.

Shepherd's football team won the Mountain East Conference title in 2015. For the first time in school history, the Rams advanced to the NCAA DII Championship game where they fell to Northwest Missouri State, 34-7. The Rams finished 13-1 with a 10-0 record in conference play.

The 16th annual Day of Service took place August 18, 2015, when 100 students and 20 faculty and staff members volunteered at 23 nonprofit sites throughout Jefferson and Berkeley counties, including Goodwill Industries, the Boys and Girls Club of Jefferson County, St. Andrews Mountain Community Center in Jefferson County, the Promise Neighborhood Initiative in Martinsburg, and Yankauer Nature Preserve in Berkeley County. Shepherd students who volunteered during the Day of Service at the Shepherdstown Visitors Center were (l. to r.) Haleigh Shawyer, Liz Mott, Jack Younis, and Danyel VanReenen.

Alumnus Ken Lowe '71 (l.), of Shepherdstown, hosted a November 13, 2015, reception for M.B.A. student Siriki Diabate (r.), winner of the Lowe Family Award. The event included a special guest, Cote d'Ivoire Ambassador Diabaté Daouda. The Lowe award honors students for high academic achievement and outstanding service to the university.

NASA research grants awarded to biology majors

Three biology students were awarded undergraduate research fellowships by the NASA West Virginia Space Grant Consortium. Kyle Clark of Sterling, Virginia, and Marshall Hoffmaster and Sierra Fowler, both of Hagerstown, Maryland, received $4,500 grants giving them the opportunity to work with a Shepherd professor to conduct research during the summer and academic year. Each student was awarded an additional $500 to use toward conference travel.

Student painting part of national juried show

A painting by Sam Boder was part of the Fifth Annual National Juried Exhibition at Marshall University's Visual Arts Center in Huntington. Boder was one of 30 artists from across the country selected for the show. His work, The Unknown Lives Around Us (III), a 30 by 50 inch self-portrait, was on display during February 2016.

Jamaica trip provides teaching, nursing experiences

Four teacher education and six nursing students traveled to Jamaica where they had the opportunity to participate in teaching and clinical experiences in schools and hospitals and to visit other educational and cultural settings during March 2016. Shepherd offers the Jamaica study abroad trip to nursing and teacher education students every other year.

Five teams earn Mountain East Conference honors

In addition to the football team, also winning Mountain East Conference accolades were MEC championship teams—men's golf, baseball, and lacrosse. Softball won the MEC North Division championship.

Kappa Delta Pi chapter, officer recognized

Chelsea Wilson, an elementary education major from Baker, was one of 16 Kappa Delta Pi officers recognized for outstanding leadership during the society's biennial conference held October 22-24, 2015, in Orlando, Florida. The Shepherd chapter of the international honor society in education was one of four to receive the Phoenix Award for improved chapter programming, student leadership, and membership. The chapter also received a Program Award for Professional Development and a Program Award for Community Service.

Students present at international conference

Shamika Bruinton, a sociology major from Woodbridge, Virginia, and Micah Johnson, a college student development and administration master's degree student from Austin, Texas, attended the Advena World International Conference in Washington, D.C., on December 9, 2015. Bruinton and Johnson presented a poster and presentation titled "Survey of Multicultural Education in the Media and on Campus," in which they described the importance of multicultural education and the effectiveness of multicultural pedagogy in creating positive images of minority group members.

Psychology major presents research at Harvard

Caroline Shamberger, a sophomore psychology major from Morgantown, made a presentation at Harvard University about food literacy research she's conducting with the Design for Food Literacy program in Oregon. She traveled to Harvard March 25-26, 2016 to make the presentation at the annual Just Food? Forum on Land Use, Rights, and Ecology.

Two students take top prizes at English symposium

Two students received top prizes at the 24th Annual West Virginia Undergraduate English Symposium March 19, 2016. Chloe Powers, of Inwood, won first place for best-written essay for "The Mother's Influence and the Man's Power in Uncle Tom's Cabin," and Michael Barbour, of Martinsburg, won first place in outstanding presentation of his paper "Uncle Tom's Empire: Cultural Colonialism in Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Nursing students awarded research scholarships

Three nursing students were each awarded $300 Nursing Research Scholarships during the seventh annual Nursing Research Conference hosted November 5, 2015 by Shepherd's Department of Nursing Education and the Martinsburg VA Medical Center Evidence-Based Research Council. Stephanie Santella and Brianna Kimpel, both of Charles Town, received the undergraduate awards based on their exemplary academic performance and leadership skills. Connie Willard, of Berkeley Springs, received the VA award for her exemplary use of evidence-based practice skills in the clinical environment.

Frye '79 wins Nevins-Freeman Civil War award

Dennis Frye '79 received the 2015 Nevins-Freeman Award from the Civil War Round Table. The author of nine books and many articles about the Civil War, Frye received the award for his work in helping the public understand Civil War history. The chief historian at Harpers Ferry National Historical Park, he is co-founder and past president of the Civil War Trust.

Barron '73 named 2016 Distinguished Citizen

Denny Barron '73 was named the 2016 Distinguished Citizen in April by the Mannahoac District of the Boy Scouts of America. Barron, executive vice president and chief operations officer at Jefferson Security Bank in Shepherdstown, has been a volunteer for four decades with community groups including 4-H, Jefferson County Fair, and Shepherdstown Fire Department.

McCormick '14 receives Associated Press awards

Elizabeth "Liz" McCormick '14, the Eastern Panhandle reporter and producer for West Virginia Public Broadcasting, received the Virginias Associated Press Broadcaster's Superior Award for best feature or human interest story and a regional Edward R. Murrow Award for the best use of sound, both for her story "A Civil War Christmas."

Opposite page: Shepherd alumnus Ray Alvarez '62 was honored as the 2015 individual philanthropist of the year by the Association of Fundraising Professionals (AFP) Tri-State Chapter. The annual award recognizes individuals and organizations for their contributions to charities and causes in the states of Virginia, West Virginia, and Maryland. Ray is the former president of the Shepherd University Foundation and began serving on the Shepherd University Board of Governors in September 2016. As president of Shepherd's Scarborough Society since 2002, he has helped raise more than $500,000 in support of Shepherd's library system. He is pictured here with his wife, Mary, at an October 29, 2015 reception held in his honor, where Stephanie Landes, president of the AFP Tri-State chapter, presented him with his award.

Above: Members of the Joseph P. McMurren Society and their guests joined President Mary J.C. Hendrix '74 at the organization's annual dinner reception on May 14, 2016. The event is hosted by the president in honor of alumni and friends whose optimism, progressive thinking, charitable investments, and intense loyalty to Shepherd have resulted in their decision to share their lifelong financial achievements through estate and other planned gifts, ensuring crucial financial assistance for deserving students for generations to come. Pictured (clockwise, from top left) are Jim Auxer '69, Sandy Hamilton '06, Robbie Snyder, Ann Hummer '69, John Slonaker '69, President Hendrix, Erdem Ergin, and Joan Ergin. To learn more about joining the Joseph P. McMurren Society or to receive an invitation to the next annual dinner reception, please contact Monica Lingenfelter at 304-876-5397 or mlingenf@shepherd.edu.

Left: Alumnus Joe Walter '66 was inducted into the Emeritus Club in 2016, 50 years after graduating from Shepherd with a degree in secondary education. Now retired from a career with Jefferson County Public Schools, Joe is a member of the Shepherd University Alumni Association (SUAA) and the Ram Gridiron Club.

"Joe is a big booster of Shepherd's football program and has been for many years," said fellow alumnus Al Lueck '67, who founded the Ram Gridiron Club. "He's always been supportive of our football team."

Joe is pictured here with Alexis Reed '06 and '13 M.B.A., director of alumni affairs, at the Emeritus Club Luncheon and Induction Ceremony on May 5. The annual event, held each year on Commencement weekend, honors Shepherd alumni who graduated 50 or more years ago. The Emeritus Club is a constituency organization of the Shepherd University Alumni Association, created to encourage the continuing involvement and engagement of alumni through friendship and fellowship to strengthen ties with the university.

Left: This spring, the Women for Shepherd University continued their mission to create a sense of community for women to connect and build relationships by hosting a backyard tea party and gardening demonstration held at the historic Entler Hotel in Shepherdstown. Guests enjoyed "Tea and Liberty," a presentation by Master Gardener Carol Anderson on the historic usage of herbs in beverage-making, including a look at how the American Revolution affected the consumption of tea and herbal infusions in America.

Sponsored by the Shepherd University Foundation, Women for Shepherd University is a network of alumnae, faculty, and friends connecting with one another for personal and professional growth. These leaders, by power of their example, support, foster, and promote the advancement of women and women's issues within Shepherd University, the community, and in their own lives. The organization holds two events each year. Participants in these women-centered programs learn firsthand about all that Shepherd University has to offer, as well as the positive impact volunteer leadership can have. To learn more about Women for Shepherd University or joining its planning committee, visit www.shepherduniversityfoundation.org and click on "Get Involved."

Above: In recognition of the 20th anniversary of its summer internship program, DMI Mobile Enterprise Solutions, one of the companies contracted by the United States Coast Guard Operation Systems (OSC) in Kearneysville, made a generous gift to Shepherd University to support its annual robotics competition, ShepRoboFest. John McDermott, DMI vice president and contract program manager at the OSC, and Enrico Caruso (r), DMI project manager, presented the $5,000 check to Will Richards, Shepherd Robotics Club president, on May 13, 2016.

"Shepherd University has been one of OSC's principal recruiting sources for bright, young, and technically inclined students who have demonstrated excellent achievements in our work environment," Caruso said. "Having realized these benefits, DMI management felt it fitting to celebrate this 20th anniversary of our summer internship program with a gesture of our appreciation to our longest academic partner—Shepherd University."

Joseph P. McMurran Society

The Joseph P. McMurran Society was established to honor those individuals who wish to provide for the future of Shepherd University with a planned gift or bequest. The McMurran Society provides recognition of donors who have made such plans and hosts events to honor the Society members as well as keep them informed about the progress Shepherd University is making and its plans for the future. The McMurran Society bears the name of Joseph P. McMurran, Shepherd's first principal (president), who served from 1871 to 1882.

Right: Hannah Williams '16, of Bunker Hill, majored in biology with a focus on pre-optometry and was a recipient of the Elsie Brown and Joseph J. Renn Memorial Scholarship. The award was established through the Shepherd University Foundation by Shepherd alumnus Joseph J. Renn III '60, M.D., in honor of his parents. Elsie Renn graduated from Shepherd in 1923.

"The Renn Scholarship was a blessing during my last year at Shepherd because it provided enough funding to take care of my remaining tuition costs," said Hannah. "This year I was accepted into optometry school, so I am now able to save my money for my postgraduate education."

Hannah was featured in the December 2015 issue of Journal of Visualized Experiments (JoVE), an online peer-reviewed scientific video journal. In the feature, Hannah and Dr. Carol Plautz, an associate biology professor at Shepherd, performed experiments for the camera on immature frog eggs, called oocytes.

President Mary J.C. Hendrix '74 congratulates graduating senior Cindy Brockman '16, of Shepherdstown, at the 143rd Commencement ceremony on May 7, 2016. During her time at Shepherd, Cindy was the proud recipient of the Dr. Vince Gonino Scholarship in support of students majoring in recreation and leisure studies. The late Dr. Gonino was a beloved professor of recreation and leisure studies at Shepherd whose personal motto was Make a Difference, particularly in the lives of his students, and that's exactly what his scholarship did for Cindy.

"Dr. Gonino is someone who inspired me to make a difference," she said. "His scholarship helped me pay for my college education and aided in my development as a recreation professional. I am very grateful to have received this award—it has made a difference in my life."

Above: Foundation scholar Alvaro Silva '16, of Silver Spring, Maryland, graduated from Shepherd with a Bachelor of Music Education in grades K-12. He was a recipient of the Bertha Rae Baker Memorial Scholarship, designated for elementary education majors. Created by Phoebe Leeman in memory of her mother, who graduated from Shepherd College in 1915, the endowed fund is intended to honor Mrs. Baker's longtime teaching career by creating opportunities for future educators. With gratitude for this spirit of generosity, Alvaro said, "This scholarship served as a reminder of my commitment to education and the support Shepherd has offered me in order to pursue my education here."

Above: During Shepherd University's 2016 Student Recognition Day, held on April 19, the daughters of former Shepherd President Oliver S. Ikenberry honored one female and one male student who have exemplified an outstanding record of academic achievement, leadership, and a high level of volunteer service to the university and surrounding community. Jane Ikenberry-Dorrier '65 (l.) and Margaret Elizabeth (Betty) Ikenberry Wade '58 (r.) presented the Oliver Ikenberry Award for Human Service to Brianna Shuman '16, a sociology major from Mt. Airy, Maryland, and Graham Scott '16, a political science major from Buckhannon. Graham is also a Foundation scholar, having received the James S. Hafer Memorial Scholarship in his junior year. More recently, he was selected by Shepherd's political science faculty to participate in the university's Canadian Parliament Internship Program, funded through the Foundation by Dr. Mark Curley. The award allowed Graham to travel to Ottawa, Ontario during his 2015 summer recess to participate in the workings of a parliamentary form of government.

The Ikenberry family established the award in tribute to their father. The family also established the Margaret Ikenberry Memorial Fund for Popodicon Garden in homage to their late mother. Additionally, Jane Ikenberry-Dorrier serves as a director emerita on the Shepherd University Foundation Board of Directors.

Left: It's a classic love story: Glenn '52 and Peggy '61 Welsh met as students at Shepherd, married in 1951, and went on to spend the next 64 years of their lives together on their beloved family farm in the Swan Pond Greensburg area of Berkeley County. As alumni, they actively supported the university's football team and rarely missed a game for more than 50 years. In 2005, they created the Glenn W. and Margaret R. Welsh Scholarship, a deferred general academic award established through the Shepherd University Foundation that enabled them to join the Joseph P. McMurrin Society. The gift highlights the couple's civic-mindedness and ensures their legacy at Shepherd as deserving students will benefit from their generosity into perpetuity.

On November 10, 2015, Glenn Welsh passed away. A retired farmer, orchardist, and real estate developer, the WWII veteran was a lifelong member of Greensburg United Methodist Church and an active member of his community. In addition to serving on the Chamber of Commerce, he was a Paul Harris member of the Martinsburg Rotary club, a 32 degree Mason and Shriner, and the recipient of several awards for his work in the community. Above all, Glenn was a beloved member of the Shepherd family, one whose presence is missed by many in the campus community.

Shepherd UNIVERSITY | President's CLUB

Members of the President's Club have been instrumental in providing the resources necessary to advance Shepherd's strategic priorities and help raise the university's profile through outstanding programs and academics.

President's Club donors help ensure the future of Shepherd University through annual unrestricted gifts of $1,000 or more. The uncommon commitment shown by alumni, friends, faculty, staff, executive leadership, and board members demonstrates the true passion and pride that so many feel for Shepherd.

We are proud to recognize the donors listed as members of the President's Club who added strength to Shepherd's mission and positively impacted students, faculty, and staff through their philanthropy during the 2016 fiscal year.

Right: During his time at Shepherd, Ferris Sinnas '16, an environmental studies major from Falls Church, Virginia, was an active participant in the various recognition events sponsored by the Shepherd University Foundation for its many deserving scholars. Ferris was the recipient of the Florence and Velma Shaw Leadership Scholarship, a general academic award created to promote high standards of leadership in campus residence halls.

Awarded to resident assistants at Shepherd who demonstrate qualities of citizenship that enhance residence life, the endowed fund was established through a bequest by former education professor Florence Shaw to honor both her and her sister's service to Shepherd. As supervisor of Shepherd's observation and teacher-training program, Florence Shaw wished to create a project that would give student teachers a hands-on opportunity to practice instruction with real pupils. Over the summers of 1928 and 1929, she gathered local children to take part in the building of what originally was to be a small garden on Shepherd's campus; however, at the encouragement of President W.H.S. White, the project took on new shape and evolved into what is now known as the Little House on Princess Street.

Left: Zulfiya Muradova, a senior mathematics major from Hagerstown, Maryland, was the 2015-16 recipient of the Jonathan P. Daily Endowed Scholarship. Designated for applied mathematics students, the Jonathan P. Daily Scholarship was established by Dr. Larry Z. Daily, associate professor of psychology, in memory of his son following his untimely passing in 2011. Jonathan utilized his own applied mathematics degree from George Mason University in his job at the Leetown Science Center, where he modeled insect populations in local streams. By the age of 24, he had already been published in the Journal of Ecology, as well as successfully questioned a methodology in his field at several professional conferences. His father felt Jonathan was well on his way to creating his own legacy in the field of applied mathematics, and created this award to perpetuate that legacy, a sentiment that is not lost on Zulfiya.

"I am honored and delighted to receive the Jonathan Paul Daily scholarship," she said. "I feel beyond grateful that there are people who are encouraging my studies in mathematics. This encouragement continues to motivate me to overcome challenges and become a more determined student."

WISH: Women Investing in Shepherd

Women Investing in Shepherd (WISH) was created in 2014 to inspire, educate, and develop the amazing potential of women's philanthropy. WISH was formed as a philanthropic subsidiary of Women for Shepherd University and is sponsored by the Shepherd University Foundation. The gifts from this women's giving circle fund high-impact grants to Shepherd University learning programs and the tri-state nonprofit community. WISH affects positive changes, brings new funding resources, and makes philanthropy accessible.

Shepherd University celebrates these outstanding women who chose to become members of this unique and significant philanthropic circle. The members listed here made their gift during the 2015 calendar year. Special thanks to Mary "Peachy" Staley '70, Liz Oates, Carolyn Fleenor '78, and Bev Hughes '71 for their outstanding leadership and dedication to WISH.

To learn more about the organization and how to become a member, please contact the Shepherd University Foundation at 304-876-5021, mpeterso@shepherd.edu, or visit the website at shepherduniversityfoundation.org and click on Get Involved.

Excellence • Innovation • Opportunity:

Training the Next Generation of Leaders and Model Citizens

With the inauguration of President Mary J.C. Hendrix '74, Shepherd University has entered a period of transformation and growth. As the first Shepherd graduate to serve as president of the university, President Hendrix is proud to return home to lead our remarkable institution of higher learning as it advances the frontiers of excellence, innovation, and opportunity.

Our students commit themselves academically and emotionally to Shepherd University at a critical coming-of-age, placing in us their hope and trust for a brighter future. And so it is during this evolutionary phase that we ask our alumni and friends to do the same—to recommit to the future of Shepherd University as we train the next generation of bright young minds.

Private gifts through the Shepherd University Foundation are crucial in funding student scholarships, academic programs, and faculty awards to underwrite vital research and technology that will inspire and sustain innovative curriculum. With your support, we can truly transform the student experience and inspire our faculty to new heights of academic excellence.

Your gift will make a difference!

If you would like to support Shepherd University with a private gift, please visit us at www.shepherduniversityfoundation.org.
