From the President

Each fall as work begins on the President's Report and Honor Roll of Donors and I review the institutional highlights of the past fiscal year, I am so proud of the accomplishments of our students, faculty, staff, and alumni. On the following pages, we take the opportunity to celebrate all of Shepherd's progress and accomplishments for the 2018-2019 academic year, many of which we could not achieve without you—our loyal alumni and friends

It is your generosity, not with just your financial support of Shepherd, but with your time and talents that makes me prouder still. So many of you give selflessly by volunteering on committees and serving on our institutional boards. It is your volunteer spirit and commitment to Shepherd that makes the institution so strong and vibrant.

I am gratified to see that so many donors have the ubiquitous two digit number after their names that identify them as alumni. And some have enjoyed their Shepherd experience so much that they have two or more class years after their names! Regardless of when alumni attended Shepherd, we all have a shared experience—we may have eaten in the Ram's Den, taken a class in Knutti Hall, or watched a game in Ram Stadium or its predecessor, Fairfax Field. Whether we studied in Scarborough Library or the library in Knutti Hall, that shared experience of a strong Shepherd education is a significant reason our alumni are devoted to their alma mater. Their success is Shepherd's success. Shepherd's old motto "Shepherd Students Succeed" is just as relevant today! Thank you for your investment in our future.

The Bonnie and Bill Stubblefield Institute for Civil Political Communications at Shepherd University was announced in June 2019 with the signing of a gift agreement. The purpose of the institute is to offer an advanced platform for the study of political communications amid a national political culture of divided ideology and partisan divisiveness. Core activities of the Stubblefield Institute will address these divisions by sponsoring forums, lectures, and debates consisting of opposing political, policy, and media leaders. It will also provide Shepherd students with contemporary academic and practical educational programs related to political and policy communications.

At the request of Shepherd University's Board of Governors, Shepherd instituted an academic reorganization that realigned the institution's academic structure. The new structure was approved at the February 14, 2019 meeting of the Board. Internal applicants interested in the leadership positions in the new structure formally applied for the slots and participated in interview sessions held on campus in late February and early March. A new College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences is headed by Dr. Rob Tudor as dean and Dr. Ann Marie Legreid as associate dean; a new College of Nursing, Education, and Health Sciences is led by Dr. Sharon Mailey as dean; the College of Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics has Dr. Robert Warburton as dean; the College of Business retains its dean Dr. Ben Martz and associate dean Dr. Kathy Reid; Dr. Laura Renninger is the dean of the Ruth Scarborough Library and Center for Teaching, Learning, and Instructional Resources; and Dr. Richard Stevens continues as dean of the Division of Graduate Studies and Continuing Education.

The Society for Creative Writing was launched in fall 2018 to bring national and international poets and fiction and nonfiction writers to Shepherd to encourage literary dialogue while exposing students to a multicultural writing community. Dr. Hope Maxwell Snyder, poet laureate of Shepherdstown and a former faculty member, has returned to Shepherd as the university's first poet-in-residence and director of the society.

President Mary J.C. Hendrix (c.) with Dr. Bonnie Stubblefield and Dr. Bill Stubblefield at the signing of the agreement in June 2019 establishing the Stubblefield Institute for Civil Political Communications at Shepherd.

Shepherd's head football coaches since 1972 gathered at the 2018 Hall of Fame banquet for a group photo. They are (l. to r.) Dr. Mike Jacobs, Monte Cater, Walter Barr '62, and Ernie McCook.

Shepherd expanded its healthcare services through Shepherd Telehealth, which provides 24-hour access to doctors via phone, tablet, or computer. Through an agreement with Teladoc, all undergraduate and graduate students have access to the service as part of their student fees. The service is available to faculty, staff, Lifelong Learning and Wellness Center members, alumni, and retirees for a fee of $40 per year for unlimited access.

Sixty-one students were awarded master's and doctorates and 640 received baccalaureate degrees during Shepherd University's 146th Commencement May 11, 2019. The Rev. Dr. Jamie Washington, president and founder of the Washington Consulting Group, delivered the graduate commencement address, and Brandon Dennison '00, CEO of Coalfield Development Corporation, delivered the undergraduate commencement address. Both were awarded Doctor of Business honorary degrees. Alumnus and emeritus employee Karl Wolf '70 was presented the President's Award in recognition of his dedicated service to Shepherd University.

The School of Nursing has received a four-year, $2.7 million Advanced Nursing Education Workforce Grant from the U.S. Health Resources and Services Administration. The grant will be used for an Innovative Modalities for Rural Nurse Practitioner Education and Collaboration to Transcend Health Disparities (IMPACT) program designed to encourage advanced practice nurses to work in rural West Virginia communities helping underserved populations and to promote the use of treatment such as photobiomodulation (PBM) light therapy to manage pain to help reduce opioid use in the region.

The Higher Learning Commission gave final approval in spring 2019 for a new Master of Arts degree in Appalachian studies. The Master of Arts degree in Appalachian studies is an interdisciplinary program requiring 30-33 credit hours. There are two concentrations: Appalachian history, culture, and heritage and preserving Appalachian communities, business development, and the environment. Students who have earned Shepherd's 15-hour graduate certificate in Appalachian studies can apply all those credits toward completion of the master's program.

Shepherd University hosted the 33rd annual conference of Phi Beta Delta Honor Society for International Scholars May 31-June 1, 2019. The conference, titled "Innovative Strategies in Promoting Global Learning," offered sessions on topics such as forming international partnerships, studying abroad, and incorporating international topics into the curriculum. Dr. Ann Marie Legreid, associate dean of the College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences, is president-elect of Phi Beta Delta.

New field turf was installed at Ram Stadium in May 2019, replacing the well-worn, 10-year-old field turf. The new playing surface was readied in preparation for Shepherd's entry into a new athletic conference in fall 2019, the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference (PSAC).

Hanrahan named 2018 West Virginia Professor of the Year

Dr. Heidi Hanrahan, professor of English, was named the Faculty Merit Foundation of West Virginia 2018 Professor of the Year. The Foundation presented the award on April 9, 2019 during a banquet held in the Great Hall of the Culture Center in Charleston. Hanrahan was nominated by the university based on her achievements in teaching and her involvement on campus and in the community.

Broomall publishes book 'Private Confederacies'

A new book by Dr. James Broomall, director of the George Tyler Moore Center for the Study of the Civil War, examines how the American Civil War reshaped the emotional expressions and gendered behavior of white Southern men. Private Confederacies: The Emotional Worlds of Southern Men as Citizens and Soldiers is part of the Civil War America series published by the University of North Carolina Press.

Education receives $38K grant in 2018

The Department of Education received a $38,802 grant administered by the West Virginia Department of Education to create schools of professional development within four Berkeley County schools during the 2018-2019 school year. Teacher candidates who are early education and elementary education majors, as well as those in music, art, and physical education, are eligible for field placement in the program.

Hendrickson leads Andean Condor Genome Project

Dr. Sher Hendrickson, associate professor of biology, initiated and leads the Andean Condor Genome Project as part of the effort to save the bird from extinction. Groups involved in the project are the Andean Condor Conservation Program, which was founded in Argentina in the 1990s, and the San Diego Zoo's Frozen Zoo. The genome could provide clues to how the condor adapts to its environment, which could help scientists devise strategies to save the species.

Bankhurst receives funding for Maryland Loyalist Project

The Omohundro Institute of Early American History and Culture at the College of William & Mary awarded Dr. Benjamin Bankhurst, assistant professor of history, and Dr. Kyle Roberts, of Loyola University Chicago, a $5,000 Lapidus Digital Collections Fellowship for The Maryland Loyalist Project. The project is a collaboration between Bankhurst and Roberts that aims to make the letters and petitions of British loyalists who fled the American Revolution housed in the British National Archives available in a digital archive.

Kushin honored as software company's professor of the month

Dr. Matthew Kushin, associate professor of mass communications, was named the Stukent November 2018 Professor of the Month. Kushin uses Stukent's Mimic Intro software to introduce pay-per-click ads to students.

LEFT: Ellen Hoffman, Roy Winkel, Judith Briod, and Judy Jones enjoyed an afternoon of socializing at the fourth annual Women Investing in Shepherd (WISH) grant awards ceremony on August 19, 2018. More than 100 members and guests were on hand at Erma Ora Byrd Hall for the event, which was sponsored by John Wolff '88, Bronfman Rothschild Wealth Advisors, and his wife, Lisa Wolff '87. Since its 2015 creation by the Shepherd University Foundation, the women's giving circle has awarded a total $475,500 in grants to regional nonprofits and Shepherd University learning projects. In May 2019, WISH celebrated five years of high impact grant giving with an anniversary reception featuring presentations from its members, progress updates from the 2018 grant recipients, and a keynote address from Rebecca Powers, who founded the women's giving circle Impact Austin in Austin, Texas. To learn more about WISH and its work, contact Meg Peterson, director of donor relations at the Shepherd University Foundation, at 304-876-5021 or mpeterso@shepherd.edu.

LEFT: For Mitchell Arthur '21, a historic preservation major from Fredericksburg, Virginia, the financial worries associated with attending college were a family affair. As a recipient of the G.D. Bragaw Scholarship in Memory of Robert A. and Joan Lux, that burden was lessened. "My family was faced with the prospect of funding college not only for me, but also for my sister and identical twin brother," said Mitchell. "My scholarship was a great benefit." Designated for history or political science and global study majors, the G.D. Bragaw Scholarship in Memory of Robert A. and Joan Lux was initially established by Bo Bragaw '79 in memory of his grandfather. When Bo's grandmother died in 2005, her name was added to the award. Bo was a political science major at Shepherd.

LEFT: The 2019 Joseph P. McMurren Society Dinner Reception gave Dr. Heidi Hanrahan (l.) the opportunity to visit with fellow faculty member Dr. Larry Daily and his guest, Sandra Sheehan. Heidi is a member of the Shepherd University Foundation's board of directors and was named 2018 Professor of the Year by the Faculty Merit Foundation of West Virginia. She is a professor of English while Larry serves as an associate professor of psychology.

Larry previously established the Jonathan P. Daily Endowed Scholarship through the Foundation in support of applied mathematics. The scholarship was created in tribute to Larry's son, a promising young mathematician who tragically passed away in 2011 at the age of 24. In 2009, Jonathan received his bachelor's degree in applied mathematics with a minor in biology from George Mason University and utilized these degrees modeling insect populations in streams at the Leetown Science Center. At the time of his death, he had been published in the Journal of Ecology in addition to successfully questioning a methodology in his field at a professional conference. "I feel like Jonathan was well on his way to creating a legacy and part of my motivation in establishing this fund was to do that for him," said Larry, who recently joined the McMurren Society, a special group of donors who have chosen to share their lifelong financial achievements through estate and other planned gifts.

RIGHT: In 2017, Argos USA emerged as a new program sponsor of the Scarborough Society's annual fundraising gala. Since then, the Martinsburg-based cement plant has expanded its support of Shepherd University to include multiple programs and affinity groups. Over the past year, Argos has contributed to the Scarborough Society, President's Club, Last Dollar Fund, Paul Saab Memorial Lab, Men's Golf Team, and the annual Alumni Golf Tournament.

Established in 1864 as Standard Lime, the company has been alternately known as Martin Marietta, Capital Cement, Essroc, and now Argos USA. With U.S. headquarters in Atlanta Georgia, and international headquarters in Columbia, South America, it is the fourth largest producer of cement in the United States. The Martinsburg facility produces more than two million metric tons annually of high quality performance-specific cements. With six cement plants and numerous ready-mix facilities in operation across the continental United States, Argos employs 150 people in Martinsburg and more than 3,000 nationwide.

"Giving back to our communities and promoting education builds a strong sense of community and provides Argos with the sustainability on which the company is founded," said C.D. Linton '94, regional manager of human resources for Argos USA. "We are proud to be a business partner with Shepherd University and look forward to many years building and cultivating that relationship."

Cecelia Mason

Joseph P. McMurran Society

The Joseph P. McMurran Society was established to honor those individuals who wish to provide for the future of Shepherd University with a planned gift or bequest. The McMurran Society provides recognition of donors who have made such plans and hosts events to honor the Society members as well as keep them informed about the progress Shepherd University is making and its plans for the future. The McMurran Society bears the name of Joseph P. McMurran, Shepherd's first principal (president), who served from 1871 to 1882. This list includes all living members during the 2018-2019 year.

LEFT: The Shepherd University Foundation welcomed an unprecedented 18 new members into its Joseph P. McMurran Society at the organization's annual dinner reception on May 4, 2019. Among them was Dennis "Denny" Barron '73 (r.), pictured with Shepherd University Foundation president Christopher Colbert '95 at the event. In July 2018, Denny created a general education scholarship for Jefferson County students. "I just want to help deserving students offset the costs associated with higher education," he said of the deferred gift, established through the transfer of ownership of a life insurance policy to the Shepherd University Foundation, enabling Denny to make fully tax-deductible payments to the Foundation to cover the cost of the premiums. The gift is the first of its kind for the Foundation and demonstrates how planned giving may take on many forms.

LEFT: More than 40 alumnae, community members, faculty, and staff attended the Women for Shepherd Metal Pour and Art Exhibit on October 20, 2018 at the FASTEnER Lab on Shepherd University's campus. Sponsored by the Shepherd University Foundation in conjunction with the Shepherd University Art Department, the event featured the work of recent Shepherd graduate Alyssa Imes '18, whose sculpture of a monarch butterfly was previously on display in the gardens of historic Popodicon. Alyssa conducted the pour with her self-made furnace, Phylus. Participants were invited to craft individual pieces based on personal inspirations. They received a tutorial showing how to create a scratch block mold of their chosen pattern, which in turn was used to create a metal keepsake made from iron poured on-site. Cindy Calhoun '95, pictured here prepping her mold, chose to create a turtle. The Metal Pour and Art Exhibit marked the 12th marquee event for Women for Shepherd University. Kay Dartt, 3-D Fabrication manager for the FASTEnER Lab, summarized the experience, saying, "It was a great time bringing students, alumni, the campus, and community together to make art."

RIGHT: Carl K. Rauch '58 didn't know Adam Weaver, yet he knew that his planned gift would enable countless students like Adam to pursue a higher education. Professor Rauch achieved a lifetime of accomplishments as a scholar, professor, and philanthropist. A former math professor at Shepherd, Carl's legacy at the university includes the creation of several student scholarships established across multiple disciplines. Although Carl passed away in 2011, his philanthropic spirit lives on through the students aided by these awards; Adam Weaver of Martinsburg is just one of those students. A junior majoring in business administration, Adam is a recipient of the Carl K. Rauch and Susan Besaw Rauch Endowed Scholarship for Business. Created through a bequest, the award honors Carl's former wife, who is a retired assistant professor of accounting at Shippensburg University. In establishing his endowed gifts, Carl stated, "My satisfaction lies in knowing that I will be helping future generations attend this wonderful school." He would be satisfied indeed to know that upon receiving his award, Adam stated, "It's an honor to receive this scholarship as I am now able to earn a quality education that will benefit my future."

LEFT: In November 2018, the Shepherd community suffered the loss of a great friend to the university. Sandra Jenkins moved to Shepherdstown in 2005 following her retirement from a career in public service that was inspired by the women's movement of the 1970s and her own perception of new opportunities. As a practicing attorney in the public sector, she was a staunch advocate of women's rights. In 1973, while working at the Maritime Administration where she spent the balance of her career, she recruited the first class of women to be admitted to the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy, Kings Point. All eight female recruits went on to graduate from the Academy, and in 1974, following the Kings Point success, Congress opened all military academies by statute. Sandy also worked alongside notable activists like Betty Friedan and Ellie Smeal while serving on the board of the National Organization for Women's Legal Defense and Education Fund. The group served as the lead advocate for the federal civil rights law Title IX, which passed in June 1972.

Sandy resided in Shepherdstown with her partner and spouse, Mary Bell, a retired civilian attorney for the Department of Navy. Both women were charter members of WISH (Women Investing in Shepherd University) and are pictured here at the organization's 2017 membership reception. Sandy also served on the WISH Grants Committee and was an active member of the Shepherdstown community in general. She and Mary attended Shepherdstown Presbyterian Church, where they were married in 2018.

Shepherd

Women Investing in Shepherd (WISH) was created in 2014 to inspire, educate, and develop the potential of women's philanthropy. The gifts from this women's giving circle fund high-impact grants to Shepherd University learning programs and the tristate nonprofit community.

Shepherd UNIVERSITY | President's CLUB

Members of the President's Club have been instrumental in providing the resources necessary to advance Shepherd's priorities and raise the university's profile through outstanding programs and academics. President's Club donors help ensure the future of Shepherd University through annual unrestricted gifts of $1,000 or more. The uncommon commitment shown by alumni, friends, faculty, staff, executive leadership, and board members demonstrates the true passion and pride that so many feel for Shepherd.

LEFT: In July 2018, Hank and Dale Walter established the Margaret M. Drennen Women's Golf Endowment, the first for women's golf at Shepherd. The scholarship was created in memory of Dale's mother, Maggie Drennen, who was respected and admired as a strong woman who supported many worthy organizations. Together with her husband, the late Judge William Drennen, she developed The Club at Cress Creek with the assistance of their daughter and son-in-law. Maggie loved the game of golf and was a strong advocate for women. The Margaret M. Drennen Women's Golf Endowment will provide scholarships for female student-athletes and other financial support to strengthen the women's golf program at Shepherd University. Pictured (l. to r.) are Monica Lingenfelter, Shepherd University Foundation, Hank Walter, Dale Walter, Coach Charles Ingram, and Chauncey Winbush, Shepherd Athletics.

ABOVE: Dr. Geri Crawley-Woods, professor of social work, was the third recipient of the Mentzer Award for Inspirational Teaching (MAIT) when it was announced during Shepherd's 71st Annual Student Recognition Day on April 23, 2019. The MAIT was created by Shepherd alumna Susan Mentzer-Blair '72 (second from r.) and her husband, William "Bill" Blair (r.), to honor a full-time professor recognized by Shepherd students for being particularly inspiring and having a profound effect on his or her students. Sue's brother, Dr. John Thomas "Tom" Mentzer, served as inspiration for the award. Tom received a similar accolade from his Ph.D. candidate students at the University of Tennessee in Knoxville, where he held the Bruce Chair of Excellence in the business department. The MAIT honors Sue's brother, who passed away in 2010, as well as her mother, who died in 2014. A portion of each of their estates was used to create this unique recognition. Sue is a retired school counselor with Frederick County Public Schools in Maryland and also serves as a director emerita on the Foundation's board of directors. Bill Blair is also a retired educator, having taught history and worked as a school counselor with Jefferson County Public Schools in West Virginia.

Dr. Crawley-Woods was nominated by Osmund Anderson (l.), a social work major from Charles Town. Previous MAIT recipients include Dr. Timothy Nixon, associate professor of English, and Dr. Stephanie Slocum-Schaffer, associate professor of political science.

LEFT: William Edward Moler '65, known to all as Ned, will be remembered with respect and appreciation by the generations of Shepherd students who receive his scholarship awards, including recent Shepherd alumna Nnebuefe Idegwu '19 of Hagerstown, Maryland. After he retired from a successful career with IBM, this remarkable alumnus chose to leave his entire estate to the Shepherd University Foundation to endow the William E. "Ned" Moler Scholarship. Each year into perpetuity, his generosity will provide numerous general academic awards to deserving Shepherd students, influencing the lives of untold scholars who will carry his legacy into the future. Nnebuefe used funds from her scholarship award to help pay her tuition. "This means a lot to me because my education has helped me grow and become the person I want to be," she said.

Annually Funded Awards

The following annually funded awards were established through the Shepherd University Foundation. These awards support student scholarships and internships, faculty excellence, and academic programs.

LEFT: As a pre-med biology major, recent Shepherd graduate Daniel Hussion '19 of Charles Town has high hopes for the future. The Captain Charles N.G. and Jessie Hendrix Memorial Scholarship helped him work toward his goals as a student. "This scholarship gave me the opportunity to continue my education and chase my dreams without putting a financial burden on my family or me," he said.

Designated for pre-medicine students or those in related fields of research, the Captain Charles N.G. and Jessie Hendrix Memorial Scholarship was established by Shepherd University President Mary J.C. Hendrix '74 in memory of her parents. Capt. Charles N.G. Hendrix served with distinction at the United States Naval Academy in Annapolis, Maryland, and as a tribute, the Hendrix Oceanography Laboratory was built at the academy. Jessie Hendrix was a dear friend of Shepherd University and the Shepherd University Foundation, where she worked as administrative assistant to the late Dr. James Moler '30 in the organization's early years. She later served as secretary on its board of directors for almost 30 years.

Where there's a WILL, there's a way.

Everyone needs a legal will, yet too often we put off the process of making one year after year. Why not make this the year to get your plans in order?

Through a new partnership with FreeWill, the Shepherd University Foundation is pleased to offer alumni and friends free access to an online platform where users may create a will in less than 25 minutes.

Take advantage of this free resource at freewill.com/shepherd and support the people and causes you care about most. Though it's not a requirement, your choice to include a gift to Shepherd in your estate plans will have a lasting impact on the university and its students, programs, and faculty.
